At Annual Town Election. Refuse Petition from Theatre Managers, Signed by 600. Town Gave Adverse Decision in November.

TOWN WINS CASE AGAINST ZEPARO

The long-disputed case of Rocco Zeparo, the owner of greenhouses and other property adjoining the land of the Crosby School Playground, vs. the Arlington Park Department, was decided this week in Superior Court, Judge Morton. Zeparo asked the court to prohibit the playing of baseball on the Crosby Park, and was refused. The complainant also asked that damages be assessed to the individual park commissioners for damages done his property, which was also refused. It is understood that Mr. Zeparo intends to appeal to the Supreme Judicial Court. The Park Commissioners were represented by Town Counsel John L. Murphy.

At the present time the Park Commissioners have a rule prohibiting the playing of baseball by persons over 16 years of age unless the play is supervised by the Park Commissioners. Judge Morton adopted that rule in his decree, which follows:

ROCCO ZEPARO ET AL
vs.
JOHN B. BYRNE ET ALS.

INTERLOCUTORY DECREE

Need More Affection In Home Says Speaker

The Selectmen (Leonard Collins, George H. Lowe, Jr., and Ernest W. Davis) received a petition signed by six hundred registered voters at their meeting Monday night from the managers of the Capitol and Regent theatres.

The petition requested that the matter of Sunday movies in Arlington again be brought to vote by means of an informal ballot at the annual town election on March 4. It stated that in as much as the informal expression taken at the state election last November was very nearly evenly divided that the matter should receive another test. The theatres proposed to agree to start performance not earlier than six in the evening and to limit the number of children.

The Selectmen looked up the record of the November informal ballot and discovered that 7,219 votes were cast in favor of Sunday movies, and 8,047 against. There were 435 blanks. After due deliberation it was decided not to allow an informal ballot on March 4, in view of the fact that an adverse decision was rendered so recently.

LOCAL PAPER GETS WARNING OF CATASTROPHE

The Advocate received warning of catastrophe this week in the form of a letter with a clipping from last week's paper. The clipping read:

"A post card from Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies, indicates that Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Birch of Churchill Avenue are enjoying their stay there. Mr. Birch writes enthusiastically of the scenic beauty of the island, and of the perfect climate, boasting of the fact that blankets are needed on the beds every night."

The letter which caused considerable consternation at 13A Medford Street, was as follows:

36 Churchill Ave.
Arlington, Mass.
Feb. 3, 1935

Dear Ed.—
Wait until Uncle Arthur reads this—you'll get heck.

You really must do something about your reading glasses.

THE ROMANTIC LEADS

Clarissa—Lorraine Miller

Viscount Deeford—Russell Curry

One week from tonight the Park Players production of "Disraeli" will be presented on the stage of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall. For weeks the group has been at work on this play under the skillful direction of William O. Partridge, and now stands almost ready for its performance.

The cast is made up of experienced and talented young people, many of whom are already established favorites with the Arlington public. The title role of Benjamin Disraeli, Britain's greatest prime minister, is in the very capable hands of Emery Battis, a student at the Leland Powers School of the Theatre, and who appeared many times before Arlington

Patrolman White Makes Good Catch

Patrolman Thomas White of the Arlington Police Department made a brilliant catch Monday night after he was notified by the attendant at the filling station, junction of Warren street and Broadway, that the station's safe had just been robbed.

After he had received a description of the alleged thief, Officer White started out and found his man a short distance away on Warren street. At headquarters the arrested man gave the name of John F. Sullivan, but it was found that that name was one of many he assumed. It appears that "Sullivan" is really the notorious "Chick" Dillon, who has a long record of arrests but very few convictions. He was tried for and acquitted of murder in 1919.

Dillon walked into the filling station to get warm, he said, and while the attendant was serving a customer, it is claimed that he walked out again with the negotiable contents of the open safe. Rapid work by Officer White brought about his arrest. Lieutenant Ryan is confident that the accused will be convicted and sentenced severely when the case comes up on February 12.

Earlier Officer White made another good catch, this time his culprit being a less dangerous character. He apprehended the lad who pulled the false alarm from box 17 Monday afternoon.

Chamber of Commerce Hears Credit Talk

A fairly large audience made up of members and friends of the Chamber of Commerce heard George H. Foss of the Retail Merchant's Credit Association talk on credit Tuesday evening at Wyman's Tavern. His subject was "Fear," which he used to point out the advantages of a credit clearing house with a branch at Waltham. He explained that bad accounts come out of profits and not out of the volume of business. To be successful the cream must not be reduced to skim milk by credit losses.

Several Coasting Children Injured

There were several coasting accidents this week, but fortunately none was fatal. Nine-year-old William Gormley of 97 Bow street coasted out of Sunset road into Bow street Friday afternoon and struck an automobile whose driver stopped and offered to take the boy home but was refused. No one got the driver's name or registration.

Richard Coburn, 5 years old, 219 Lowell street, was quite seriously

At an enthusiastic meeting of 150 members and friends of the Arlington Citizens' Committee at the Heights headquarters last Tuesday night, the remainder of their slate was endorsed. Paul M. White was named for Moderator; Edward S. Coburn for School Committee and Daniel M. Hooley for the one year term on the Park Commission. All endorsements were unanimous, thus giving the committee three more candidates who will bring considerable strength to the entire slate.

The body of Lawrence Scott, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scott of 51 Mount Vernon street, was found yesterday noon at the bottom of Spy Pond, near the Middlesex Sportsman's Association club house by a professional diver, after a search which started Wednesday afternoon and enlisted the services of scores of citizens, nearly two hundred Boy Scouts, the police and fire departments.

When the alarm was first given by the anxious parents Wednesday afternoon after the child had disappeared from a store on Massachusetts avenue, near Highland avenue at ten o'clock that morning, the police made a search of the town generally and particularly the Boston and Maine right of way, where the boy had been seen, and finally organized a search party which continued its work until the body was found.

After hearing a radio broadcast, giving the description of the child, manager Corcoran of Ye Lantern, which is next to the Middlesex club-house, telephoned headquarters at eleven o'clock Wednesday night and said that Larry had been playing on Spy Pond that afternoon and had been chased away from the hole in the ice, kept open for the ducks near the club house, by members of the Arlington Rotary Club, which met at the Sportsman's Association house Wednesday noon.

Acting on that information Lieutenant Albert E. Ryan directed his searchers to Spy Pond and his men

JAMES H. REARDON

The funeral of James H. Reardon, a native of Arlington and widely known here, took place from his home at 57 Mystic Street Monday morning with high mass of requiem being celebrated at St. Agnes Church. Mr. Reardon, who was the husband of Annie (Storin) Reardon, died last Friday in the seventy-ninth year of his age. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Leo J. McCann. The bearers were Patrick Loftus, Dennis Hurley, John McCarthy and Jeremiah Sexton. A delegation from St. Malachi Court, M. C. O. F., of which he was a member, acted as honorary bearers. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery. In his younger days Mr. Reardon took an interest in the affairs of the town and was for many years active in the Holy Name Society of St. Agnes Church. Up until his retirement he was employed by the Pierce & Winn Company. Besides his wife he leaves a sister, Mrs. John (Margaret) Quinn, and a brother, Dennis Reardon of this town.

FORREST E. NUTTER

Forrest E. Nutter, who has lived in Arlington for the past ten years, died last Thursday in Springfield, where he was stationed as investigator connected with the alcoholic unit of the United States revenue office. Funeral services were held Monday morning from his late home at 147 George Street, and high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. James Church by Rev. Gerald Hennesey. Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown. Death followed a long illness at the Hotel Clinton. Mr. Nutter was born in Palermo, Maine, July 17, 1892, the son of Frank E. and Louisa (Bagan) Nutter. After schooling in Maine he came to Boston where he served for some six years on the Metropolitan Police Department. After that he was connected with the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, and for a time with an automobile concern. He had been a federal officer for nearly four years. Before coming to Arlington he lived in West Somerville for many years, and was a member of the Somerville Lodge of Elks whose representatives attended the funeral. He is survived by his wife, Helen Fairbanks Nutter, to whom he was married thirteen years ago, and his parents who are residents of Somerville.

MRS. MARY H. MAHONEY

Mahoney, one of the last of the blacksmiths active in Arlington. At the time of his death he was official blacksmith for the town. Mrs. Mahoney was born in County Kerry, Ireland, sixty-five years ago, but came to this country as a young girl. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary D. Mahoney, who lived with her mother.

WM. D. STRONG THRILLS
COMMUNITY SYMPHONY
CONCERT AUDIENCE

Helped materially by relatively propitious weather conditions, the presence of William Dietrich Strong as soloist and the promised excellence of a program of well-loved compositions, as well as an effective departure in publicity and advertising, managed by Mrs. James A. Bailey, the Arlington Community Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Leonard Wood, played to its largest audience of the current season in Robbins Memorial Town Hall last Sunday afternoon. There was a great advance in the sale of admission tickets, whose holders nearly filled their section of the hall. The more expensive division of the floor made a poorer showing, but according to the management all these seats were subscribed for, although not occupied. A request is made to sponsors to dispose of their tickets if not able to use them themselves. Since no salaries are paid to players or conductor, it is obvious that money-making beyond expenses is no objective. The orchestra is interested in playing to the largest possible number of people and would appreciate all seats sold being occupied. Sunday's program opened with that most dramatic of Beethoven's overtures, The "Egmont", which was followed with the whirlwind Tarantelle by Saint-Saens. The solo parts in the latter were played by Verne Q. Powell, flute, and Julius Mazzocco, clarinet, both recognized as among the greatest exponents of their instruments in this section of the country. Their exhibition of fleetness and perfect tonal quality excited a burst of applause from the audience. According to the program notes which were written by John Gruber, noted Arlington pianist, Rubinstein's Concerto in D Minor "serves merely to display the virtuosity of the performer and tells no story". Mr. Strong proved himself more than worthy of the composition. As he ripped through the concerto with breathless speed the audience was left no doubt as to his virtuosity. The fact is that he worked himself into a tempo much faster than usual, which marred somewhat his own clarity of production and tested the abilities of the instrumentalists to the limit. Nevertheless, the whole effect was tremendously exciting and prompted thunderous enthusiasm after the third and last movement. Beethoven's magnificent Fifth Symphony occupied the last half of the program and brought the performance to a fitting climax. In this work the orchestra had opportunity for a display of individual technique and collective power, and under the impelling baton of

MICHAEL FRANCIS DWYER

The third tragedy within the past two years struck the Dwyer family last Saturday with the passing of Michael Francis Dwyer, the father of two children who had both met violent deaths. Mr. Dwyer, who has lived at 67 Mt. Vernon Street for the past ten years, died at Symmes Arlington Hospital after a brief illness.

The whole town greatly sympathizes with his widow, Mrs. Mary A. (Sullivan) Dwyer, who lost two of her children and her husband in such rapid succession. On May 14, 1933, her only son, Charles J. Dwyer, a student at Boston University School of Business Administration, was killed in an automobile accident in Norwell. In October of the same year her daughter, Miss Dorothy M. Dwyer, was killed in an aeroplane accident. The big United Air Lines plane, in which she was a passenger, exploded in mid-air near Chesterton, Indiana. Mr. Dwyer was born in Ireland sixty-four years ago, and for many years lived in Cambridge. He retired from business shortly after moving to Arlington. Besides his widow, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Barbara) Kenney of Arlington and two grandchildren. Funeral services were held Monday morning from his late home, high mass of requiem being celebrated at St. James Church by the pastor, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, Rev. James W. Crowley, deacon, and Rev. Gerald Hennesey, subdeacon. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

POSSIBILITY of the discovery of important new mineral deposits through use of the radio is foreseen by J. F. Witkowski, Principal of the School of the Radio, International Correspondence Schools, and Associate Member of the Institute of Radio Engineers. Experimental use of radio equipment for this purpose has shown that if a radio transmitter is placed on one side of a mountain and a receiving set on the other, it is possible to send through the mountain radio waves which are affected by the presence or absence of mineral deposits. The method gives promise of providing, quickly and inexpensively, information about the location, density and size of deposits which otherwise could only be obtained by costly borings.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 10.
The golden text is: "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, There is Liberty" (II Corinthians 3:17).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sons of God. . .
The spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Romans 8:14, 16).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man understands spiritual existence in proportion as his treasures of truth and love are enlarged. Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must bear the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off. This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace" (p. 265).

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

During the week the local Scouts will hold parents' nights, round-ups of former Scouts, special church services, and observances in many of the schools.
The growth of Scouting nationally in the past twenty-five years has been remarkable. 6,530,330 boys and men have been Scouts and Scout leaders. Although only one out of seven in the land has been a Scout, 65% of the students in colleges have been Scouts; 60% have been captains of college football teams; 8 are members of the 1934 All-American eleven, and 68% of the Rhodes Scholars were at some time or other Scouts. This is a record which no other organization can approach.

answers the question:

ARLINGTON STAMP CLUB

Last Monday evening, February 4, the Parish Hall of the Universalist Church at Arlington Center was the meeting place for many stamp collectors of Greater Boston, on the occasion of the 47th meeting of the Arlington Stamp Club.
There were 76 present, among them being collectors from Rhode Island, Boston, Cambridge, Arlington, Somerville, Medford, Malden, Newton, Brookline, Winchester, Brighton and Belmont.
Much interest was shown at the bourse tables where books containing stamps for sale were available.
This new feature last October is fast becoming an important factor in the club's activities, and at this last meeting many thousand stamps of all nations and countries could be found.
Fernald Hutchins, a member of the club, and well-known in the entire district to philatists in general, gave an interesting talk and displayed many rare United States covers.
The auction, too, was popular as usual, and many good buys were made by several of those present.

ARLINGTON JOUNCED OUT OF FIRST PLACE IN SLOPPY GAME

Ineligibility, Sickness, Penalties and Plain Carelessness Cost League Lead. Rindge Wins, 2-1.

Chiefly through the inability of its players to stay out of the penalty box, the Arlington high hockey team suffered a 2-1 defeat at the hands of an inferior Rindge Tech sextet at the Boston Arena last Saturday afternoon in a Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League game. This defeat sent Arlington into second place with Melrose taking first place by virtue of its 5-0 win over Newton.

Arlington started the first period minus the services of Vartkes Sakolian, Captain Bud Norberg, and John Byrne. Sakolian reached the age limit last week and will not play any more games. Bud Norberg is just recovering from an attack of the grippe. John Byrne arrived at the game late. To make matters worse, Bobby Mee and "Red" Preston each had forgotten one of their skates and had to borrow a pair. During the second period, Bud Kramer, star Rindge goalie, received a severe ear injury and was forced to leave the game.

The first period opened with both teams playing carefully, trying to feel out its opponent's strength. Bob Mee made the first aggressive move by soling down the ice in an attempt at scoring, but lost that elusive rubber disc. Ray Coyne made many good saves during the next minutes with Rindge hammering at the goal. Six minutes and 36 seconds after the period began, Chipman passed from in back of the net to "Red" Preston who slapped her home. The puck hit the inside of the bars and bounced out. The official said it was a goal, but the goal judge said it wasn't. After a little debate, it was counted and the game proceeded. The remainder of the period was fast and furious with neither team being able to score, although Arlington had two men in the penalty box at one time.

In the second period, Arlington continued to play in a slipshod manner. Again and again, Arlington men journeyed to the penance box. Finally after six minutes of toil, with Joe Gardella in the penalty box, George Desrosiers passed to Charlie Mahoney, who slipped into the draperies, tying the score. Mahoney is an ex-Arlington High athlete. Two minutes after this Bud Kramer was injured and left the game.

The third period was but a minute old when Desrosiers took a pass from Mahoney and sent in a tricky side-shot which baffled goalie Coyne and sent Rindge into the lead. The rest of the game was hard and rugged with Arlington striving desperately to score, but failing. The soft ice slowed up faster Arlington considerably. The summary:

ARLINGTON H. S.—Preston, Keefe, lw; Chipman, Gardella, c; Mee, Owen, rw; Lane, J. Byrne, ld; Collins, rd; Coyne, g.

RINDGE TECH.—Desrosiers, Harvell, rw; Mahoney, c; Skinner, D'Amico, lw; T. Collins, rd; F. Byrne, ld; Kramer, Bemis, g.

Referees—Kelleher and Mahoney.

Arlington Girls Tied by Malden

The Malden High Girls' basketball team held the powerful Arlington High girls team to a 20-20 deadlock at the Arlington gym last Friday afternoon. The game was hotly contested, with neither team able to secure a good lead over its opponent. The tie lasted for the last five minutes of play with both teams striving desperately to score but always being frustrated. The high scorer for Arlington was Captain "Kitty" Hart, who garnered 12 points. The summary:

JONES LEADS ATTACK WHICH LICKS EVERETT

Scores 17 Points. His Last Decides Game.

Led by Earl Jones in scoring, the Arlington High basketball team narrowly defeated the Everett High quintet, 29-23, in a close, hard-fought game at the Everett High gym last Tuesday afternoon. Jones, the genial center of the red-and-gray quintet amassed 17 points during the game, he also shot the deciding basket with less than a minute of play remaining in the last period.

The first was a minute old before any scoring was done. Earl Jones started things by sinking two foul shots. Pat O'Brien sunk a foul shot immediately after. Earl Jones then sunk a foul shot to keep Arlington in the lead. Sammy Gentile started Everett's scoring by clinching a foul shot three minutes after the period opened. The next play saw Pat O'Brien gathering two points by virtue of a long floor basket. Everett took time out in an attempt to gain a little breather. When play was resumed, Nick Bellefatto scored two points for Everett. Herb Siders came back with two points for Arlington. Dick Connolly sunk a foul shot for Everett. Pat O'Brien caught a foul shot just before the period came to a close. The score at the end of the period stood 10-4 in Arlington's favor.

Jones started the second canto by scoring a field goal one-half minute after the period opened. Pat O'Brien sunk a foul shot, to be followed by a foul basket by Jones. Sammy Gentile then proceeded to cage two baskets and a foul shot to bring Everett a little closer. Burleigh sunk a foul shot. Pat O'Brien closed the half by scoring two points. The score stood 16-11 at the half with Arlington leading.

A rejuvenated Everett quintet appeared on the floor for the second half. After Jones had scored two floor baskets and O'Brien and Lowder had each sunk a foul shot, Everett proceeded to work. Gentile started by caging two foul shots. MacDonald flipped the ball into the hoop for two points. Connolly caged a basket, followed by Bellefatto scoring a basket. At this point the game became a little rough, and Nick Bellefatto was ejected from the game for slugging. Walsh placed Everett one point behind Arlington by looping a basket. The period closed with the score standing at 22-21 with Arlington still leading.

Earl Jones increased Arlington's lead by scoring two floor baskets. Sam Gentile caged a foul basket as did Charlie Lowder. Connolly narrowed the gap by scoring two points. Doherty placed Everett one point behind Arlington with a long basket. Everett took the lead when Sammy Gentile sunk a floor basket. With less than a minute of play remaining, Earl Jones sunk a one-handed shot to win the game for the red-and-gray.

The Arlington Seconds were not so fortunate as their older colleagues, losing to the Everett Seconds, 27-15, in the preliminary game.

Chelsea Swamps Arlington Five

The Chelsea High Basketball team defeated the Arlington High quintet, 36-8, at the Chelsea High gym last Friday night. The game was too one-sided to be of much interest to the spectators, the Chelsea team showing their superiority in every phase of the game.

The first period was all Chelsea, with Arlington managing to eke out one point. Two minutes of the period passed with Chelsea getting six points, four by Manny Abrams, and two by Sol Nechem. Earl Jones sunk a foul shot, Arlington's sole point in the initial period. Abe Perkins flipped a shot into the strings and Arlington took time out to collect their scattered wits. When the play was resumed, Abrams scored two points, to be followed by two points by Nechem. The first period ended with the score 14-1 in Chelsea's favor.

The second period was a repetition of the first, with Chelsea garnering eleven points, and Arlington three. Pat O'Brien doing the scoring for the home team. The half ended with Chelsea at the long end of a 25-4 score.

During the second half, Chelsea inserted its second team for most of the time. Chelsea scored eleven points and Arlington four, two baskets by Bart Madden.

In the preliminary game, the Arlington Seconds defeated the Chelsea Seconds, 18-17. This game was more interesting than the main game, both teams being fairly evenly matched. At the half the Arlington Cubs led by the score of 11-9. At the close of the third period, the score was 16-11 in Arlington's favor. In the final canto, Arlington scored two points. With but two minutes of play remaining, the Chelsea team scored three baskets, but failed to overcome the Arlington lead before time was ended. The high scorer was Don De Feo with 7 points. Ed McEwen came a close second with 6 points.

The Sports Advocate

It seems as if the Rangers will clinch the title in the Amateur Basketball League. With such players as "Dykes" Driscoll, Franny Keefe, Bob Forest, "Red" Beasley, George Igo, and Henry Hart, the team is unbeatable. Last Monday it administered a 25-8 defeat on the F. A. B. Jrs. At present, the Rangers are tied at first place with the Sylvanians, but the latter team is destined to be defeated by the F. A. B. Jrs. next Monday.

The Amateur Basketball League is fortunate in having such competent referees as Bill Lowder, Bob Friery and Tom Horne.

The class basketball series are still going on in the High School. This year, "Pop" Leary has charge of the activities.

The local hockey team has the reputation of being the dirtiest team in the league, and very unpopular for this reason. The players feel that this attitude of the people is unjust. However, a look at the records will show that one of the Arlington players has the "bad man" title in his grasp by virtue of the number of minutes spent in the penalty box.

Arlingtonians buy the Advocate because they want it and read it because they buy it.

Arlington Track Men Lose to Watertown

After being postponed once because of the extreme cold, the widely heralded track duel between Arlington and Watertown, bitter rivals and leading contenders for Class "B" championship honors, finally was staged on the local board track Wednesday.

"Click" Gagliuto was the high scorer of the meet with ten points to his credit. Joy flooded the hearts of those who at last saw good, old "Click" riding on the crest of victory, for he has been unable through the long years of his earnest trying to taste the sweets of victory.

The meet was close and undecided until the last three events were staged when Watertown finally smashed out a 48 to 29 victory. Cronin, who is sick with the grippe, would undoubtedly have changed matters somewhat, since he is Doc McCarty's most consistent winner. Those who starred for Arlington include Capt. Does, Bill Collins, Joe Gardella, Charley Tibbitts, Tommy Johnson, Jack Hoffman, and Cook.

The summary:

30-Yd. Hurdles—Won by Gagliuto (A); Aberley (W), second; Bond (W), third.

30-Yd. Dash—Tie for first between Capt. Kingsley, Daughters, Aberley and Thurber, all of Watertown.

300-Yd. Run—Tie for first between Capt. Does (A), and Capt. Kingsley (W); Daughters (W), third. Time—36 2-5s.

600-Yd. Run—Won by Thurber (W); Millmore (W), second; Cook (A), third. Time—1m. 22 4-5s.

100-Yd. Run—Won by Sheldon (W); Taylor (W), second; Hunt (W), third. Time—2m. 34s.

High Jump—Tie between Tibbitts (A) and Gardella (A); Daughters (W), third. Height—5ft. 8in.

Broad Jump—Won by Gagliuto (A); Kingsley (W), second; Riccio (W), third. Distance—9ft. 9 3-4in.

Shot Put—Won by Collins (A); Daughters (W), second; Johnson (A), third. Distance 41ft. 11in.

Relay—Won by Watertown (Aberley, Bond, Riccio, Thurber); second, Arlington (Gagliuto, Hoffman, Burns, Does).

Total—Watertown 48, Arlington 29.

Senior High School Notes

An assembly was held last Friday morning in the old auditorium for the sophomore class. Mrs. Helen F. Matthews, the High School dramatic coach, and director of "The Country Cousin", presented Friday evening, introduced the various members of the cast, and gave a synopsis of the play. Then the players dramatized a part of Act III, which was greatly enjoyed by those present. It was hoped that this assembly would stimulate a desire to see the play that evening.

Miss Sarah J. Bullock, head of the mathematics department, is expected back after about another week from Concord, New Hampshire, where she is with her sister who has been dangerously ill. Miss Bullock's place is being taken by Miss Mary Moulton.

Last Friday afternoon, the Girls' Club had as guest speaker at their regular meeting, Mr. Goodman, a negro who has had considerable experience with the problems of his race. Mr. Goodman spoke on the standing prejudice against negroes, and emphasized the fact that world peace is not to be obtained at council tables, but must begin at home with a complete recognition of the negro race.

A practice college entrance board examination was held last Saturday morning from nine to twelve with Miss Alice Treat, head of the English Department, supervising.

The Lincoln Day assembly will be held next Tuesday morning, February 12, with the fifth period of the day's program omitted.

Examinations in economics, a semester subject, were held on Monday afternoon from two to four. Those taking the examination were excused at the close of the fifth period. Most of the students taking economics during the first half-year will take commercial law for the next five months.

Esperanto Club meetings are being held every Monday afternoon in Room 27. The members of the club have already begun their foreign correspondence.

"The Chronicle", the official High School publication, appeared last Thursday for the fourth time this year, filled, as usual, with personal items, and other news of interest. The feature of the issue was the report of an interview with Joseph E. Toye, chief editorial writer for the Boston Traveler. Mr. Toye was very favorable in his comments on The Chronicle. Editorials were on "Slack", "The Value of Education", "The Breaking of Dishes in the Lunchroom", and "Golf". The contest winning essay on "Why You Should Attend the Performance of 'The Country Cousin'" was won by Jeanne Ross, a sophomore, who received two tickets to the play. Honorary mention and one ticket each were given to Lawrence Waterman and Clarence Barber.

George Casalou, a senior, has left school to work for his father at the Forest Hills Hotel at Augusta, Georgia.

A meeting of the fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers all over town was held in Room 14, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Marion I. Ford, supervisor of drawing, in charge. A discussion was held regarding different types of posters to be used in the coming S. P. C. A. contest.

A senior class meeting was held in assembly hall Wednesday morning. Mr. Gammons informed the students that an insufficient number of year book pledges had been received and that unless 75 to 100 more agreed to subscribe, there could be no year book. James Nelson, faculty treasurer of the year book committee, gave a few figures concerning the costs of previous years. Next Monday will be the final day on which subscriptions will be accepted.

WE MAKE PAUSE

While the nation waits with mixed emotions for developments in Washington, both in Congress and the Supreme Court, we again approach the birthday of the Great Emancipator, and it is well that we make pause, not only to honor the memory of Lincoln, the man, but to consider some of the policies that made him great.

Abraham Lincoln came to his office in 1861 with a profound regard for the Union and an overwhelming sense of his duty as chief executive to defend the Constitution of the United States at all hazards. It was the possibility for good to future generations, as his clear vision discerned it, that was the basis of his reverence for the Constitution which formed the bonds of union.

Except for the presidency of Lincoln, this country would not be the great nation it is today. Of that there is no doubt. There is scarcely less doubt that rigid adherence to that matchless document, the Constitution of the United States, has been in great measure responsible for our high place in the world.

Lincoln believed in a strong central government, and he shed the blood of his people in defense of that principle. In the sixties the states were militant in the effort to overstep their own rights. Now, on the other hand, they are frantic to relinquish them, with particular emphasis on shedding accompanying responsibilities. The result is that the national government becomes more powerful by the hour—more potent than Lincoln ever dreamed or wished—more dangerously dictatorial than we should ever allow, no matter what the emergency.

We need another Emancipator, again one who believes in a strong central government, a government strong enough to bring up short the shirking states and force them to assume their constitutional authorities and their own obligations. Let every man, every town, every city, every state at least make an effort to stand alone and discard the crutch which may very possibly become an insufferable flail.

But forgetting policies and politics for the moment, let us look at Lincoln, the man: His kindly nature and loving heart made him always considerate and tender with the erring—to cause pain to others tore at his heart-strings—but these traits never swerved him from his purpose to preserve the constitution which has guided a great people to even greater greatness with the passage of each generation. He was forgiving to all who in any way wronged him by word or deed, but stood adamant against anything like compromise with those seeking to dismember the government.

Lincoln's was essentially a life of obedience to the highest dictates of truth and honor and the law of right living. It is true that only one man out of millions of eligibles will be chosen once in four years to attempt to administer the office which Lincoln filled; only a few of the many will be selected for lesser stations of trust and responsibility, for they demand qualities high above the average, even though the electorate seems at times completely blind to that fact.

But no one of these will have a monopoly on those things making them conspicuously able as they made Lincoln great. To the full measure of physical and mental capacity, every virtue, every worthy trait in the character of Abraham Lincoln is within the easy reach of the young today.

Here and There

Tragedy cast a gloom over the entire town yesterday afternoon when it was learned that the body of three-year-old Larry Scott had been found. Spy Pond demands its toll, even when covered with nearly two feet of ice.

Chief Bullock earnestly requests that parents of lost children communicate immediately with the Police Department.

The first item under "1910" Arlington in Review in the next column proves that the pansy is not the pansy we thought it was.

The second item in the same column indicates that Edward T. Ryan, candidate for the Board of Public Works, was thrown for a bad loss—but that was twenty-five years ago. The interesting thing to us is the fact that Mr. Ryan was once a mounted policeman—or maybe he was dismounted.

A letter which is published elsewhere, on this page expresses something which we have felt very strongly since the big storm. Certainly there has been no lack of tongue wagging, or pen pushing, for that matter. But how about a little twitching on the end of a shovel? Shovel technique is not difficult to master. In fact, fellows with practically no brains at all are pretty good at it.

That is probably where the trouble lies. Most folks think they are too smart to shovel snow when eventually it will be done for them by someone—the sun or the town. But are they smart enough to realize that this was not just a snow storm. It was a blizzard such as has not been seen in this section for a generation. The Street Department was in a hole and in extrication received a lot of virulent advice but blamed little help. A little less bawling out and a lot more digging out would have been appreciated.

The date of the annual town election is now less than a month away (March 4), yet no one seems to be greatly excited. The most stirring news we got this week was a letter from one candidate announcing that he would not be a candidate after all. Yet even that was not too exciting, because we did not know that he was to be a candidate in the first place.

Harold Estabrook, Citizens Committee Candidate for Selectman, swears that the picture of him which appears in this week's issue was taken only a few days ago. Mr. Marshall, the photographer, certainly did a splendid piece of work.

A large number of sleighing parties rode through our streets last Tuesday evening, singing, shouting or blowing horns, according to the ideas of each as to what constituted enjoyment.

The marriage ceremony at St. Malachi Church, Wednesday morning attracted a large attendance of ladies. All future marriages between members of this church are to be solemnized in a similar manner.

The center crossing is less safe to pedestrians than before the gates were established, judging from the narrow escapes we have recently noted. Mr. Russell has frequently to use his lungs vigorously as he turns down the long arms' across the street.

The preparations for the Grand Army fair are approaching completion, thanks to earnest effort on the part of the ladies. The following are the committees in charge: Finance—J. A. Marden, J. A. Blanchard, Nathan Nourse, Jr., Alfred Norton, Major Bacon, J. H. Hardy, Charles S. Parker.

Hall—Amni Hall, Henry Bradley, S. C. Frost, Iva Kennison.

Printing—C. S. Parker, Geo. F. Holme, E. A. Jacobs, A. W. Cotton.

Decorations—D. J. Sullivan, Albert Needham, Charles Gibbons, Henry Bradley.

Chances—J. A. Blanchard, Wm. H. Bartlett, H. J. Crosby.

Refreshments—Ira Kennison, Alvin Robbins, Wm. F. Teel.

An editor and publisher of a newspaper makes it a success, financially and otherwise, not so much by what he puts into it, as what he keeps out of it.

Mr. Editor—It is only once in a while when I get fired up that I medal with town matters. Now I am fired up about warming the high school. My nabur says that steam heat is all right if branes goes with it, but if not, it aint no good. Now them steam pipes have been in the high school 4 or 5 months and they cost about $900—$100 a peece for every comity man, and what have we got to show for it—every time we have a cold snap, somebody says their aint no school up to the high today—there may be steam enough but where is the branes.

I don't think steam is good for heating anyway except for locomotives and fire ingins. Give me a good old fashioned stove—that's the kind for heat. If the comity don't get that building warm in 30 days, it will be a cold day for them at Town Meetin.

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

Mr. John A. Walker came into our office Saturday forenoon with his coat button-hole adorned with a pansy blossom. The remarkable thing about this was that the blossom had been picked that morning in his yard, 8 Kensington road, and had developed out of doors in our bleak New England winter.

While on tour of duty Thursday afternoon on Lake street, Officer Ed. Ryan of the police force met with a serious accident. He was riding his saddle horse which stumbled and fell, throwing Mr. Ryan to the ground. In falling he broke his left leg above the knee and sustained bad bruises.

There was a hearing at the State House Thursday forenoon on the bill to authorize the Town of Arlington to accept Spy Pond athletic field, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hornblower. Senator Crosby was present to look after the interests of the town, but there was no opposition.

The cast of "Shore Acres", now playing at the Castle Square is a long and excellent one and contains Donald Meek, Walter Walker, George Hassell, Bert Young, Al Roberts, Mabel Colcord and a host of others. Nightly the "standing room only" signs are out in the Park Theatre, where William Hodge is in "The Man From Home". George M. Cohan is soon to bring his minstrel show (the largest company in the world—over 100) to Boston. George Evans is the star.

Those interested feel indebted to Mr. Paul R. Bennett, who has rendered such valuable and excellent service as soloist and chorister at the revival meetings at the Heights Methodist Church.

"Billy" Partridge was surely "it" last Saturday evening at the vaudeville performance given by the A. H. S. Athletic Association in Town Hall. Mr. Partridge put the "show" on and coached the actors in the several sketches. The last one he wrote. The committee in charge was composed of Ray E. Mauger, chairman; Horatio Lamson, Jack Hutchinson, Wm. C. Scannell, Irving S. Hill. Others who took part in the various tableau and burlesques were: Harriet Bartlett, Ruth Prescott, Blanche King, Blanche Vail, Mildred Patten, Dorothy Black, Retta Murray, Mildred McKay, Beryl O'Hara, Raymond Whitten, Lawrence Munch, Donald Hill, Ward Chick, Forrest Osgood, Gertrude Thomas, Helen Crosby, Walter Kelley, Bradley Frost, Marjorie Gott, Wm. Smith, Raymond Whitten, Roger Bell, Harlan Reycroft, Harold Jardine, Herbert Buttrick, Lewis Cousins, Stanley Livingstone.

ARLINGTON RESPONDS WELL TO EMERGENCY APPEAL

To date in Arlington the pledges for the Emergency Campaign of 1935 amount to $307. These pledges, the chairman states, have been sent in without any solicitation; and are exclusive of any pledges made through business connections in Boston.

All those who have received pledge cards through the mail will be called on by one of the workers within the next two weeks, and it is hoped that the worker will meet with cooperation and generosity.

Each worker has an identification card countersigned by the Arlington chairman and accompanied by an identifying signature.

Those wishing to contribute to the fund and who have received no pledge card are requested to telephone the local chairman, Mrs. Keleher, Arlington 4210-W.

WHY THE CAMPAIGN?
(From Official Literature)

1. One campaign provides for all the participating agencies, replacing 97 individual drives.
2. Donors can make contributions on a systematic basis for the year and will be spared receiving a large number of appeals.
3. There is economy in this method of raising money.
4. By making a substantial designated subscription the donor can be sure that his gift is going, during the year, where the greatest need exists.
5. The First National Bank of Boston acts as Treasurer, centralizing the responsibility for safeguarding funds.
6. Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros & Montgomery furnish the Comptroller and supervise the accounting, substantial advantages in accounting for this large sum of money thus being secured.
7. This campaign being successful, these agencies will not make individual solicitations during 1935.

INTERESTING BOOK

One of the most interesting recent books and one that throws much light on the popular subject of news broadcasting is "Pardon My Accent" by Howell Cullinan well known Boston newspaperman and chief news broadcaster for the Boston Globe for more than eight years.

It is the story of the experiences of the writer as a newspaperman and news broadcaster. He takes the reader behind the scenes in such an interesting way that one simply cannot put the book down until the last page is turned.

Mr. Cullinan is now a news editor of the Globe. His book is intensely human and one of the most thrilling real life stories of a decade. It is now in the second edition.

THE COUNTRY COUSIN COMES FROM TARKINGTON STREET

To Delight Arlington Audience. George Savage Writes Favorable Criticism.

An appreciative and obviously pleased audience assembled at Robbins Memorial Town Hall, last Friday evening, to witness one of the outstanding and much anticipated affairs of the season, the annual high school play, which, this year, was "The Country Cousin", a comedy in four acts, by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street. "The Country Cousin", as is implied by the title, is a most amusing play, but underneath the brilliant humor lies a satire on that class of people known as the "smart set", which thinks of nothing but itself and its own pleasure, and which feeds on popularity given it by the society columns of the newspapers.

The leading lady of the play, Miss Nancy Price, the "country cousin", was Anna Swensen, who, although she had had little dramatic experience, showed much talent, and played her part to perfection. She was just the kind of a cousin every one would like to have, and many need. Playing opposite her was Milton Matthews, who very adroitly performed his role as George Tewksbury Reynolds, III, who, at first most emphatically one of the "smart set", later broadened his hitherto narrow and egotistical views. The juvenile leads, both exceptionally fine, were Florence Kellogg as Eleanor Howitt, young cousin of Miss Price, and Floyd Battis as Sam Wilson, who considered himself Eleanor's fiancé from the first, and who had limitless faith that his oratory would ere long bring him to the United States Senate. He planned that as soon as he should have earned $400,000 to equal the inheritance of Eleanor Howitt, to marry her. Until the last act, however, when he heroically sold his bicycle, his mandolin, his old suit, and his mother's lawn-mower in order to go to New York and bring Eleanor back home, her views about the subject of marriage greatly differed from his. The audience applauded with delight when he reappeared on the scene in the last act to rescue his sweetheart from her bitter experience with "society".

Philip Weatherill acted the part of Stanley Howitt, Eleanor's father, whom she had never seen on account of her mother's divorce, but with whom she goes away to New York for a "wider and brighter life". She became, however, the financial support of her spendthrift father and his friends "of distinction" at a villa by the sea. Mr. Howitt, and his second wife, played by Marjorie Harrington, cast a sort of spell over Eleanor until she seemed like one of them, and repulsed her beloved country cousin when the latter came to persuade her to leave these surroundings and go back to her mother. Philip Weatherill seemed rather self-conscious in the first act, but upon careful observation, it became plain that this was so intended, since the father would naturally feel ill at ease upon meeting his 17-year-old daughter for the first time since her babyhood. This was but one of the features of his well-played part. Marjorie Harrington as his wife, Maude, did a good piece of work in portraying her character, which was not an easy one to play; her enunciation, however, was none too clear. Barbara Fowler as the first Mrs. Howitt, Eleanor's mother, did admirably in the difficult part which she had, as Mrs. Howitt was a whining, pessimistic sort of person, who always called on Cousin Nancy in any crisis. Friends of Mr. Howitt's were Gertrude Harrington, Virginia Larson, Paul Garlepy, and John Buckley, all of whom, especially Miss Larson, took their parts well. The narrow life lead by these guests was illustrated by the naive remark made by one of them, that she should think people would become bored with the depression, and would want to try something else. One of the best of the minor parts was James Carmody as Pruitt, the butler. He had a very realistic air, and his playing was evidence of much practice. John Wallwork, a messenger from the jeweler's, furnished considerable amusement in being mistaken at first for a burglar by Miss Price, and then in turn mis-

Correspondence

February 5, 1935

Arlington Advocate,
Gentlemen:

While the town officials deserve a great deal of praise for the way they handled the last snow storm, I think the residents should have a raking over the coals for not attempting to clean their sidewalks. In other communities they are made to clean them. Seems to me the town is doing too much when they shovel off the sidewalks. I think the town should send householders a bill for cleaning the walks.

I always clean my own sidewalks. In fact my neighbor and I cleared our street so that we could get out before the plows came to our help and when they did we gave the driver a tip.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT TRANSLATES ANOTHER ESPERANTO LETTER

Debalceve, U. S. S. R.
January 8, 1935

Dear Friend:

Thank you for your letter of December 8th, which reached me yesterday. I shall answer some of your questions in this letter, some later.

The house in which I live consists of two apartments, although it has but one story. Each apartment contains two rooms and a little room for cooking. There is no water in the house, but we do have electric light. The house is not very beautiful, but I like it because I have lived here so long. The roof is covered with sheet iron, and the exterior walls are painted green. Inside, the apartment is very pretty. The ceiling is handsome, the walls many-colored, the doors a beautiful red. Many attractive ornaments are scattered about. We have a stove to keep the place warm in the cold weather; there is also a central steam-heating furnace.

I live here with only my mother and brother Alexander. I have no father. My brother and I work, but my mother does not. I am in the office of a manufacturing plant, while my brother is a bookholder (i. e. book-keeper) in a commercial corporation.

My mother stays at home and prepares the meals and so forth. She wishes me to send greetings to your mother. I suppose your mother to be a good woman who offers tea to all her visitors. (This is a Russian custom—do you do the same in the United States?)

I suppose you have heard that the previously-used food tickets have been done away with here. Now a person can (if he has the money) buy food without difficulty, whether he works or not. Of course, here where there is plenty of employment for all, only sluggards would be unwilling to work.

The weekly free-day, we use for rest and amusement. I usually take walks, enjoy winter sports, visit or entertain friends, attend the theatre, etc. Often, we have a musical evening at the home of some one of our friends.

I have neither an auto nor a bicycle, and we have no tramways in this town, but there is a railroad through here. As I only have a kilometer to go to work, I always walk.

I answered your last card the 25th of December (Note ignorance of Christmas Day.) Did you receive it?

Hoping you will write again soon.

Greetings from
GEORGI PLACHETURINA.

LITTLE SCOTT BOY'S BODY RECOVERED FROM SPY POND

dragged the floor of the pond under the hole. The little dog, "Kinky" who had disappeared with the boy was found near the place where the body was finally recovered, but he eluded capture. At about two in the morning the dog returned home.

False reports began to come in from all over the town. Some even claimed to have seen the lad in Boston. But the police, under the direction of Chief Bullock, continued to drag the pond, although each rumor was carefully checked by officers in scout cars.

The water where the lad went in is shallow, but the bottom slopes sharply to great depth. On the chance that the body was under the ice police and firemen cut away an area through ice about eighteen inches thick in order to enlarge the field of operation. After the floating ice had been pulled out they continued to drag until a deep sea diver, Fred Wallace of Somerville, came to their aid.

The diver was down for some few minutes, and finally located the body far out under the ice and lodged between two water-logged barges. After his return to the surface, the body of the child was removed to the Hartwell Funeral Home.

Diver Wallace is the man who recovered two bodies for the Police Department last summer. At that time his services were paid for by the local post, American Legion. The Advocate is informed that the Legion was again ready to pay, but by order of the Selectmen, the town is to do so. Selectman Ernest W. Davis

DELAY EXTENDS TOWN MEETING

ness in the warrant with great dispatch, the meeting lasting some sixteen minutes.

Moderator John G. Brackett called the meeting to order as soon as a quorum was apparent, and after the report of the Finance Committee had been accepted after motion of Arthur O. Davidson, the new chairman, proceeded to real business.

It was moved by the Finance Committee to appropriate the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for materials, tools and so forth, which the town must supply to carry on E. R. A. work from the present date until such time as sums are available from the annual Town Meeting in March.

John Delay opposed the motion on the grounds that there was no assurance that the E. R. A. would continue after February 10. He proposed waiting until the annual meeting. He was answered by Leonard Collins, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, who explained that if the E. R. A. is continued the town must be in a position to accept E. R. A. funds. It would receive none, if its own appropriation was not ready. Several other speakers, including G. Bertram Washburn, spoke in favor of the motion. Mr. Davidson also outlined some of the projects submitted and said that he had an addition list which covered two type-written pages. When the vote was taken it was unanimous in favor of the appropriation. Mr. Delay failing to vote.

The motion to appropriate $5,000 to be expended under the direction of the Board of Selectmen in the improvement of Fowle's pond and dam and for the employment of the poor was passed without discussion. The meeting adjourned.

MUST PAY HEAVILY SAYS SELECTMAN DAVIS

The principal speaker of the evening was Ernest W. Davis, member of the Board of Selectmen. In introducing him, the chairman, Mr. Wells, said that Mr. Davis had graciously agreed to substitute for the regular speaker of the evening who had been unable to attend, and he further stated that Mr. Davis would confine his remarks to town affairs of a non-political nature. In a brief half-hour, Mr. Davis gave a concise picture of the major problems confronting the board and the town.

He said that the major question, at present, is whether or not the Federal Government is going to appropriate more money for ERA work. At present the bill is tied up in Congress, and if it is not appropriated it will throw 700 in Arlington out of work, and turn most of them back to welfare. Since the $270,000 for the rest of 1935, from the Federal Government, means that the town must spend about $70,000 for equipment and supervision, the Selectmen and Finance Committee are in a quandary as regards asking for the money in March. If ERA ends, the $70,000 will be tied up and on the tax levy to no purpose, but if the money is not appropriated by the town, and ERA continues, then Arlington will be unable to accept the Government money. Welfare will be, of course, a large problem if ERA is discontinued.

Continuing his remarks, Mr. Davis said that another problem is snow removal equipment. To properly cope with a blizzard, such as the last, the town must spend about $80,000 or $100,000 for snow removal equipment. If the money is spent and no more big storms occur for another ten or fifteen years, then that is just more town money tied up; but if the people want all streets plowed in ten hours they must agree to pay for it. Mr. Davis pointed out that if one drove through the streets of the neighboring cities and towns, one could not help but notice the fine job done by Arlington in comparison.

In conclusion, Mr. Davis said that the people of Arlington have become so accustomed to receive the utmost service from every town department that they have failed to appreciate that such service costs money. He pointed out that some neighboring towns have a slightly lower tax rate, but some of these towns make no ash collections and compel the property owners to shovel off their own sidewalks. If Arlington wishes to forgo some of these services it, too, can lower its tax rate. Mr. Davis especially commended the police and fire departments and said they are rated among the best in this part of the state. He also commended the school department for the high grade of teaching which it gives to the pupils of Arlington.

Following Mr. Davis, Jacob Bitter spoke in support of Estabrook and the entire ticket, as did J. William Fellows, who also urged the necessity of getting busy immediately. Most of the candidates spoke urging support for the entire slate. Among those speaking were Messrs. Estabrook, Adams, White, Ryder, Coburn, Hootley, Anderson, Knight and Robinson. The next open meeting will be held Monday night, February 18, at the Centre headquarters.

The Candidate For Selectman

Harold M. Estabrook of 10 Inverness Road, Citizens Committee candidate for election to the Board of Selectmen, was born in Arlington and educated in the Arlington Public Schools. He later attended Chauncy Hall and was in the class of 1921 at M. I. T. in the mechanical engineering course.

HAROLD M. ESTABROOK

Since 1921 he has been associated with Patterson, Wyde and Windeler as an engineer and later as a special agent. He has been a Town Meeting member for seven years, was a member of the committee of 21, later the Finance Committee and has served a total of seven years on the committee. He was also a member of the Brackett School building committee.

When on the Finance Committee, he served on the sub-committee on the joint board and other departments, and was chairman of the sub-committee on the Selectmen's department.

For the past year he served as chairman of the Finance Committee, resigning from the committee when he announced his candidacy for selectman. He is

MRS. PARMENTER WINS ACCLAIM IN WASHINGTON

Parmenter was requested to repeat it at the American Civics Association, the next afternoon. At the banquet of the latter association the Parmenters heard Secretary Ickes speak. He called himself "the greatest conservationist that has ever lived", much to the amusement of an association which does not wholly approve Secretary Ickes. According to the observer the tension during his address was strong enough to be felt. Indicating that the popularity of the Secretary of the Interior is on the decided wane.

President Roosevelt was awarded the Schieck medal, never before given to an American, for outstanding work in promoting conservation work. Mrs. Parmenter may be sent to Cincinnati as a representative of the Federal Government to give talks on conservation. She was able to interest J. Darling Cluef of the Biological Survey, cartoonist under the name of "Ding", to come to Boston to be the principal speaker at Horticultural Hall at the Garden Federation meeting March first.

See Play Depicting Founding of C. E.

A group of two hundred was on hand last Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church to witness the play, "Visions of Youth", which the Senior Christian Endeavor put on to celebrate the founding of C. E. fifty-four years ago. The play showed a meeting of the old "Literary Society" for the Williston, Maine young folks, which was the forerunner of Christian Endeavor, the founding of the society, and its first meeting.

At the close flowers were presented to Mrs. Grady D. Feagan, who coached the play. The play was both interesting and instructive and was much enjoyed by all. Afterwards the intermediate society served refreshments to the guests.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEARS CREDIT TALK

President John D. O'Leary presided and introduced the speaker. Miss Anna B. Callahan, as usual, submitted a clear, comprehensive secretary's report of the previous meeting. Frank H. Lansing, chairman of the rapid transit committee, reported that there were no new developments.

The name of John F. Magee machinist of the Boston Globe residing at 15 Revere Street was submitted by Frank H. Lansing for membership in the civic division. The following were voted to membership; Raymond S. Morrill, Arlington High School, submitted by A. William Platin; Joseph F. Beasley, Jr., florist at 436 Mass. Avenue, submitted by W. B. Henderson; A. B. Craft, proprietor of Craft's Market, 955 Mass. Avenue, submitted by W. B. Henderson.

Auto Strikes Two Arlington Boys

While Edward E. Millett of Lynn was driving down Broadway toward Somerville Friday afternoon he struck and injured two Arlington lads who were crossing the street. Turner Duane, 14, of 56 Hilton street was taken to Symmes Arlington Hospital in the police ambulance. The other, Robert Campobasso, of 44 Decatur street, was not so badly hurt.

The banquet will be served at 7:00 p. m., followed by entertainment by well-known artists and general dancing. Music for dancing will be furnished by Corbett's Irish Minstrels, who will also give a concert of modern and old-time melodies during the banquet.

The committee is working very enthusiastically to make the affair a social as well as a financial success. The proceeds are to be donated entirely to charity.

Mrs. Agnes O'Brien is chairman of the Committee, Mrs. Margaret Cadden, secretary; Mrs. Nellie A. Crowley, Treasurer, assisted by Mrs. Kathleen M. Cunneen, Mrs. Margaret Canniff, Mrs. Helen K. Quinn, Mrs. Mary Keane, Mrs. Mary Connors, Mrs. Margaret Kearney, Mrs. Margaret Coyne, Miss Marlon Noone, and Miss Margaret Canniff.

Clare Class Holds Annual Guest Night

The Annual Guest Night of the Clare Class, First Baptist Church, was held in the Chapel Monday evening with about 100 present. Among the invited guests were Rev. Grady D. Feagan and Mrs. Feagan; the president of Men's Class, Mr. Harold Meyer and Mrs. Meyer; president of the Win-One Class, Mrs. Charles Melten and Mr. Melten; president of the Philathea Society, Mrs. Geo. Miller and Mr. Miller.

Mrs. W. Barss decorated the front of the Chapel very beautifully with potted ferns, and bouquets of snap dragons, jonquils, tulips and other spring flowers.

A Reception Committee of the officers of the class greeted guests and members as they arrived.

The evening was opened with a welcome by the President, Mrs. G. R. MacMaster, following which the class theme song was sung with Mrs. H. Evans, pianist and Mrs. M. Sorenson, leader.

Mrs. Arthur Clare, who has given her services as teacher to the class for a great many years, outlined briefly its history.

Mrs. H. Evans, chairman of the program, introduced the talent as follows: Susan Powers, Reader; Edna G. Merrill, Contralto; and Leonard Wood, Violinist. They created an evening's entertainment which, it is hoped shall live long in the memory of the Clare Class and guests.

The table in the Church Parlors was lovely with a lace cover, red and white flowers and tall candles. This was the work of Mrs. R. C. Hamilton and her refreshment committee. A spirit of friendliness and good cheer dominated the social hour, during which ice cream and cake were served.

HARDY P. T. A.

Founders Day will be observed by the Hardy School Parent-Teachers Association in the auditorium of the school next Tuesday evening, February 12, at 8 p. m., Mrs. Donald Marshall, presiding.

Assisting in the musical entertainment will be Mary Galvin Breaux, soloist, and Mrs. Ralph O'Neill, pianist. Many new members have been added to the association due to an intensive drive made by the membership committee during the past few weeks, and a large attendance is anticipated at this Founders Day celebration.

Refreshments will be served, the fifth grade mothers acting as hostesses.

SHERIFF MCELROY SPEAKS TO ROTARY

Sheriff McElroy of Middlesex County expressed his views Wednesday noon before the Rotary Club at the Middlesex Sportsman's clubhouse on "The Prevention of Crime." Every effort, he believes, should be made to keep boys and men out of jail and not put them in. Sixty per cent of all the men confined are there because of liquor, so we should preach temperance, or better yet, total abstinence.

The best preventive is further extension of supervised clubs and organizations such as Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A., Boys' Community clubs and the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars junior activities.

NEED MORE AFFECTION IN HOME SAYS SPEAKER

States on the subject of the American Home and held her audience spellbound for nearly an hour. The New England homes in the small towns and countryside were brought to mind, and how, not many years ago people were satisfied to live simply and pay for what they had, and then came the urge of the young people to go to the city and branch out for better material things for which they could not pay.

The installment plan she pointed out as one of the greatest curses of our nation. The lack of affection shown in the home life was another point brought out. The spiritual side of life was urged in the home and the readiness of fathers and mothers to keep their home open to the friends of their children and to know where they were. What we need to do is get back the home through bringing back the love, respect and spiritual part of life. Forty members of the Americanization classes of the Arlington schools were present and the president of the Women's Club in welcoming them congratulated the teacher, Miss Schaefer.

Mrs. Isabelle Winslip of Winchester delighted her audience with her charming manner and sweet soprano voice in two groups of American songs. The meeting was in charge of the American Home Department, Mrs. L. E. A. Smith, chairman. Tea was served by this committee at the close of the meeting in conjunction with the Social Committee, Mrs. Fred Douglas, chairman.

BRINGING DISRAELI TO ARLINGTON

audiences. The juvenile leads are being played by Russell Curry and Lorraine Miller, both of whom showed their splendid talent as Lorenzo and Portia in the "Merchant of Venice" last year.

Mr. Curry, too, is a student at the Leland Powers School. Mrs. Disraeli is being played by Muriel Giles, a more recently acquired member of the Players, but who has proven her abilities with other organizations. Floyd Battis, Jr., who made such a hit in "The Country Cousin" last week and who played Launcelot Gobbo so remarkably last year in the "Merchant of Venice", will appear in a more serious part in "Disraeli", that of Mr. Hugh Meyers, the banker, who comes to Disraeli's aid in the eventual purchase of the Suez Canal. Other prominent roles are also in the hands of Marjorie Harrington, Clyde Hodgson, and Richard Fowler.

The production staff of the Players is offered a tremendous challenge in preparing the four settings required for the play but already they are nearing completion under the direction of Mr. Partridge and his stage manager Paul Garlepy. Assisting them is George Lord, Boston's foremost scenic artist and a resident of Arlington.

The proceeds of the performance at the Town Hall on February 15, are for the benefit of the Victoria C. Dalin Heights Branch Library. The Arlington Heights Study Club is sponsoring the play. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Park Players, the Study Club, Mrs. Herbert Snow, 59 Claremont avenue, A. Frances Knight, 11 Tanager street, the Robbins Memorial Library, or at Blake's on Wednesday afternoon, February 13.

Two Men Injured In Unusual Accidents

Two men were injured in unusual automobile accidents this week. Officer Charles Scannell, who was doing traffic duty at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Brattle street Monday afternoon received a severely wrenched and gashed leg when a heavy gas cylinder struck him after it had fallen from a passing truck operated by John L. O'Rourke of 67 Henderson street. Scannell was touched by the fact that several school girls were bathed in sympathetic tears while he was lying in the street waiting to be picked up.

William Beecy of Bedford, the driver of a telephone company repair car had several teeth knocked out by a ladder which was pushed in his face when hit by a truck owned by the Kelly Cook Company and operated by W. T. Hamlin of 1253 Massachusetts avenue. The Kelly truck was passing the stationary repair car when the accident happened.

Boston Symphony Orchestra

It is an interesting and rather varied program which the Boston Symphony Orchestra and Dr. Koussevitzky present next Monday evening, February 11. They will play Mendelssohn's "Italian" Symphony, which they recently recorded; an orchestral score new to Boston—"Variations on a Pious Theme," by George Foote; and, as a magnificent finale to the evening, that favorite symphony of Tchaikovsky, the "Patetique."
